C'S UP

MEET THE TEAM

Six issues deep and one year later, but we're just getting warmed up. Actually, CONTRA is nearly a decade in the making. It began as a simple idea that took on many forms and evolved into where it is today. And, it will continue to change.

ThinkCONTRA has always been about like-minded, creative individuals exchanging and sharing experiences without aversion. A collective group of thoughts from different places brought together through ideas, people and culture. Today, it's easier to have a voice, if you choose to. Technology has bridged gaps and opened doors for those who have decided to have their voices heard. We, all choose to say something.

In this issue we profile some past and present contributors and introduce you to the Think CONTRA team. Thank you, come again!

- Trung Hoang, FOUNDER

IT'S A CELEBRATION, BITCHES!

TRUNG HOANG

Founder / Creative Director / Janitor

“Fall down, get up. Fall down again, get up again. Point is, never stop. Even if what you want to do tomorrow is not what you want to do today. Just keep going.”

-Trung

MILA VICTORIA

Makeup Artist / Photographer

*“I love ice cream and am lactose-intolerant.
Weddings always make me cry.
In my parallel life, I am a drag queen.
I have more lipstick than shoes.
Salt ‘n Pepa’s “push it” is my calling.
I’m gonna be the hottest 50 year old you’ve ever seen.”*

-Mila

FUNKY SWISS

Graphic Designer / Illustrator

“I’m surrounded by endless white space. There’s a madness to my simplicity. Up up down down left right left right start. Trying to live 30 lives in one. Keep them thought bubbles up, homies!”

-Funky

SHAWN SMITH

Flash Designer

“I ride with CONTRA. I vibe with CONTRA. Still young and still growing. To another year, thinking CONTRA!”

-Shawn

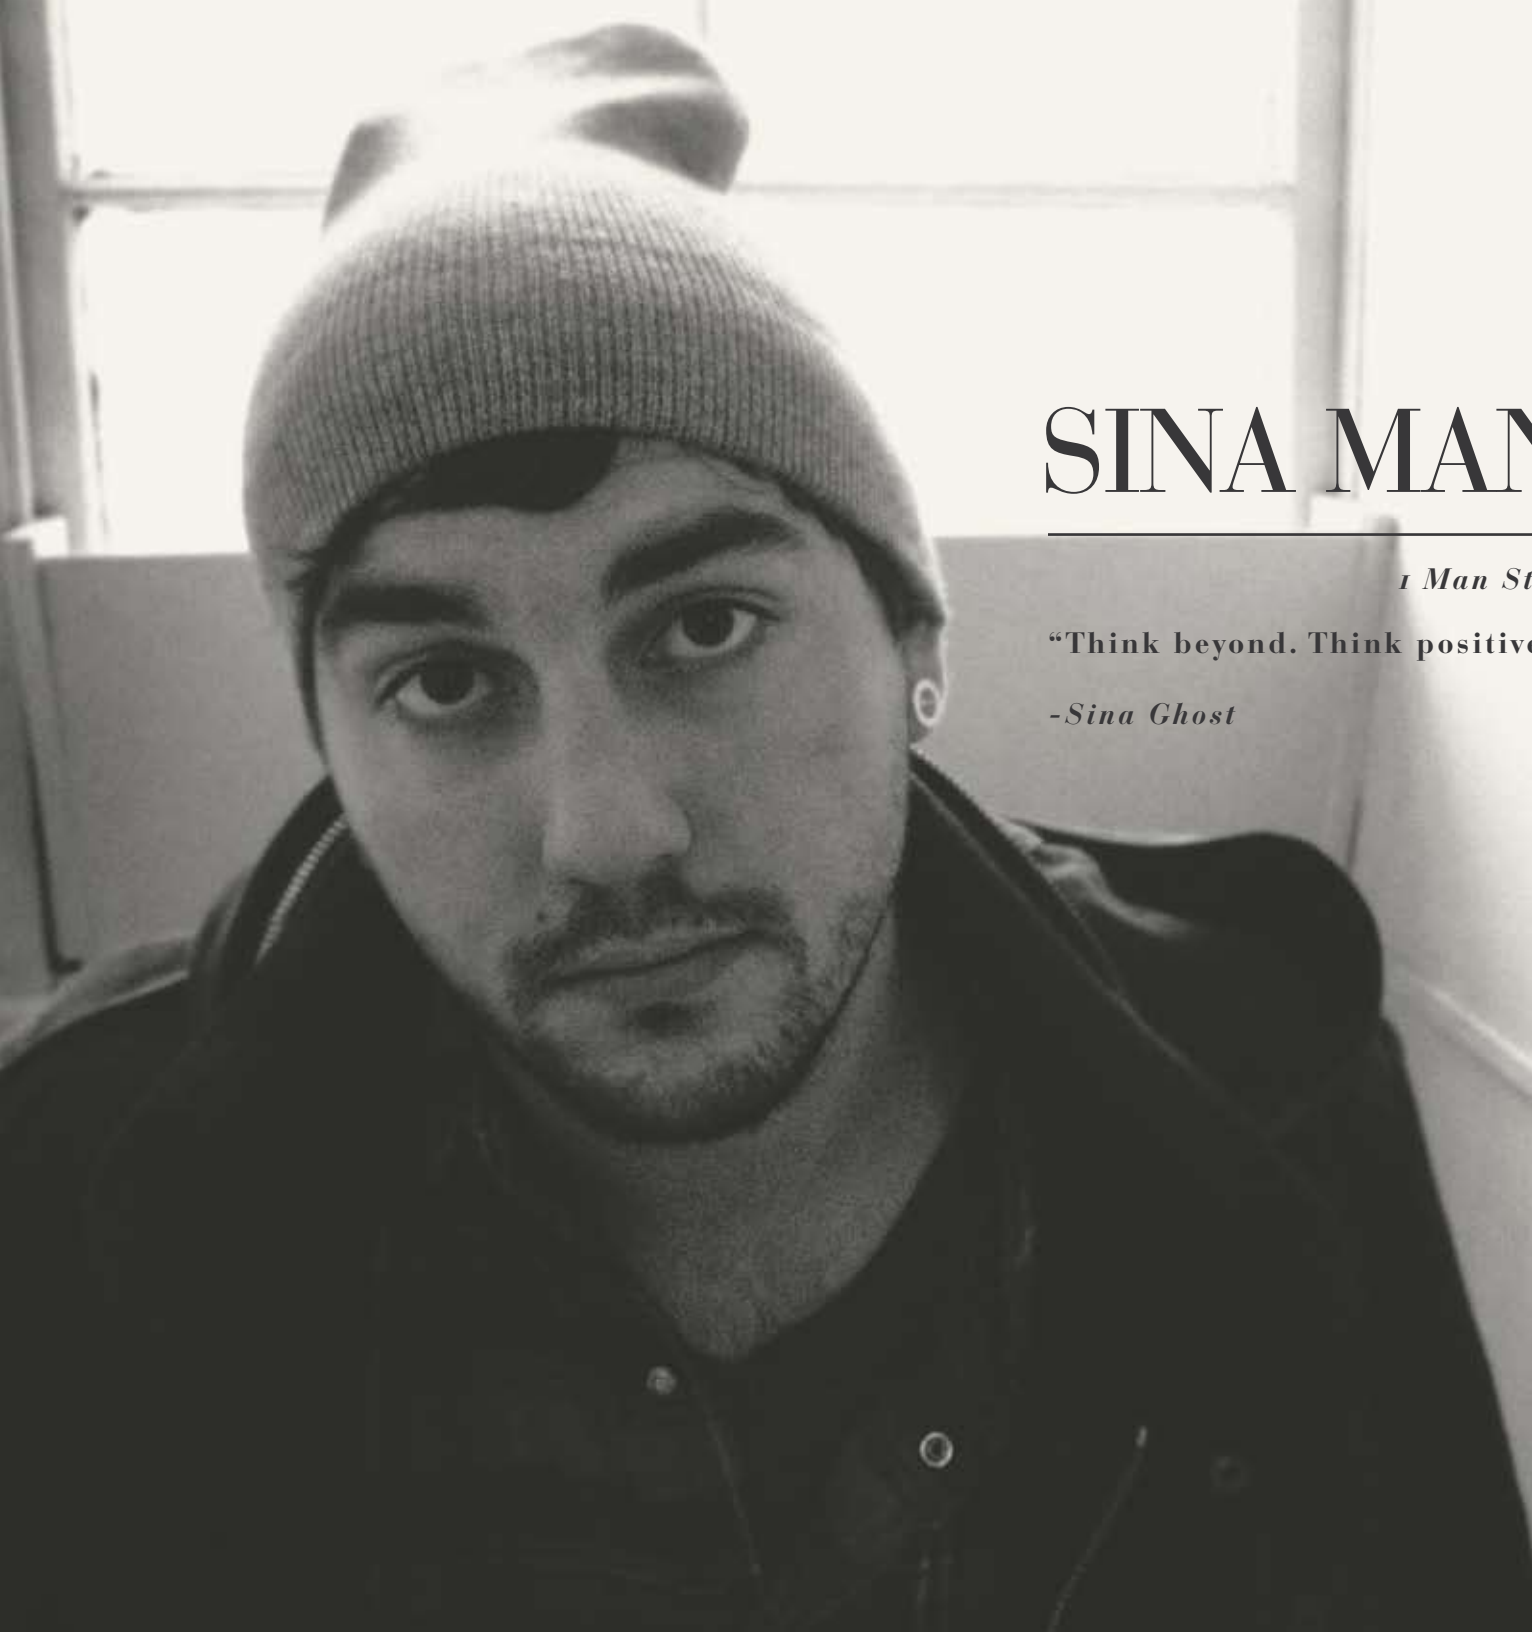

CLAUDINE BALTAZAR

Makeup Artist / Contributing Editor

“I do what I do because there are no rules!
My Mantra - NEVER LIE TO ONES SELF
My Ehlife - PAYUP!
Daily Dues - LOVE & RESPECT
The hustles become the obsession”

-Claudine

SINA MANOUCHEHRI

1 Man Street Team / Blogger

“Think beyond. Think positive. Think ahead. Think fast. Think Contra.”

-Sina Ghost

J!

Blogger / Beau Tie Killa

“We love it so we live it. We were born to inspire the next. And we do it because we know we’re priviledged to be able to.”

-J!

Issue #006: Elements

I grew up in a junkyard and then moved to the core, surrounded by Vagabonds, prostitutes and addicts. Everyone was looking to get out - to find their riches.

Being on the outside looking in, I've come to observe that the thing that truly separates the rich from the poor is ART.

I became an artist hoping to improve the quality of my life. Now it's a major part of my day-to-day. Big ups to for giving me the opportunity to share my joy.

CONTRA

TORONTO

“From the downtown-cool hipsters at Queen West to the ultra-trendy elite of Yorkville, Toronto street fashion is a prominent influential force in the world of fashion. The streets of Toronto have earned their place on the map as a fashion capital of the world. Toronto street style represents all that city has to offer—a fresh, eclectic idea of cool that is truly a brand of their own. And although it may not have that certain “je ne sais quois” that Paris has, Torontonians have found a way to turn their urban sidewalks into their own runway.”

MONTREAL

“Montreal is always about good taste. It’s decorated with charmed characters who look as good as they are interesting. Like any big little-city, you have to know where to go to really find those gems. First off, avoid downtown. Head to one of it’s better dressed neighbors like the Plateau, Mile-End or the Old Port. I’ve been shooting street fashion lately to showcase how and what people are wearing. I’ve always had a fixation on aesthetics and people, and hunting here with my Nikon proves fruitful every time. It’s high-end, eclectic, attractive and very clever.”

VANCOUVER

Vancouver Style... an eclectic mix of fashion and unique personality. Still a young and growing city, it's most stylish residents tend to mix off-the-rack, chain-store pieces with one-of-a-kind vintage, designer labels, as well as incorporating locally-designed elements. Not yet couture, but definitely getting more fashionable by the minute.

A rooftop scene with a dark, textured concrete floor and a low, dark concrete wall. The wall has graffiti on it, including the word 'HATER' on the left and a stylized figure on the right. In the background, a city skyline is visible under a bright sky, with a building under construction in the center. The overall tone is gritty and urban.

NEW YORK

“New York style is very difficult to define. Unlike cities like London, which has a definite and quintessential style, NYC style tends to differ depending on the borough or time of year. Styles are diverse and organic, but always well put together and thoughtful.”

EAST LONDON

'East London, Shoreditch area is where they house all the cool kids in suits and badass artsy types in disguise. There's really no place like it. Vintage shops are the choice of preference when it comes fashion. Nothing better than trekking back in time to find your perfect Burberry trench coat hanging off the racks just waiting for the perfect owner to snatch it, leaving the next person in line in tears. Mixing new fashion with the old seems to be the reoccurring theme for Londoners. And who can blame them, a city with such rich and dark history and yet being one of the most multicultural cities in the world presently, it's a blessing that they mix it up and kick it up a notch.

Brick Lane is where all the 'authentic' hipsters hangout as one passing pedestrian said to me while I was on the hunt for LDN street fashion. Just gearing off South of Brick Lane is Liverpool Street, home to some of the major banks like Barclays, Lloyds TSB and Nationwide but hey, bankers know how to have fun too. When it comes to matters of fashion there are no bounds for Londoners. Especially if you're based in the East!
